

THE RACES.

APPROBABLE CHANGE IN THE PRESENT ARRANGEMENTS FOR STARTING.

Horses in the Charles Green Stakes and What the Turfists Think of the Winner—The Egmont-Terra Cotta Matter Again—The Card for To-Morrow—Heding Maters.

NAVING expressed their opinions on the day before as to the starting ability of Mr. Pace, judging him by his work during the present meeting, the horsemen at the Fair Grounds track yesterday were inclined to be silent when asked for further comments. Mr. Pace's work yesterday was the best he has done as yet, which was probably owing to the small fields the stakes and the purses afford. Some little complaint was heard about the stars in the first race, but the general cry which had gone up all week was a trifle moderated. Notwithstanding this fact, however, the probability is that the meeting will not close with Mr. Pace as the starter. Indeed, there was some talk at the Fair Grounds office this morning of a change to be made, if not to-day, at some time in the very near future, unless the starting improved. Just whom the drun will go to, Mr. G. Green does not take it himself, is a question, as there are very few men in the city who are capable of the work. That man proposed in the Post-Dispatch yesterday, touching on the question of whether starting was commented upon, and the opinions of the well-known men given therein were universally indorsed. It was said in the city this morning that a change was not only possible, but highly probable, and that it would be well.

THE CHARLES GREEN STAKES.

The Charles Green Stakes ($1,000 added by the President of the Club) is the chief feature of the racing to be held at the Fair Grounds on Saturday afternoon. The track is out a good field, at present the most likely candidates are: Haggins' Falcon, Isaac Murphy's Marlist, McNamee's Alexander, Gibbons' Hunter, Corral's J. B. Clay, Crawford's Amor, and the Hocky Park Stables' Ed Mack.

This is by no means a certain one, notwithstanding the fact that the Derby was won by the Haggins colt. His and Huntress are strong candidates, and the former is something to do with the results and Alexander is a bad entry by no means. The distance is a mile and a quarter, and the odds are 5 to 1. Out of the lot above named Falcon is most likely to be the favorite, but that will not prevent the race from being a good one on which to bet.

MONTGOMERY—TERRA COTTA.

It is extremely doubtful that the match between Egmont and Terra Cotta will be made. Turfmen generally look upon Terra Cotta as a sure winner in an event of that nature, but the chances are 5 to 1. Terra Cotta is the greatest horse in the West, and weight-for-age, is, in my opinion, as good as she is in the country. Under the present conditions, it would not be safe to say that he couldn't beat The Bard or Hanover in a mile and a quarter, but I don't think he could stand a chance with him, and I don't think you will see the match made. He was all out of condition last year when he was in the race, and in his present form he is a good colt, and no mistake."

TO-MORROW'S RACING.

The racing is to be considered specially attractive. The following is the programme: First race—Selling purse, $600, of which $100 to second, $50 to third. Those who bet $100 to second will receive $100 for 1 pound allowed for each $100 to second; 2 pounds for each $100; horses beaten more than once will receive 5 pounds additional. Seven furlongs.

Second race—Purse, $600, of which $100 to second, $50 to third. Those who bet $100 to second will receive $100 for 1 pound allowed for each $100 to second; 2 pounds for each $100; horses beaten more than once will receive 5 pounds additional. Six furlongs.

Third race—Charles Green Stakes, $1,000, for yearlings-old (May 1, 1888). The purse is $100 to first, $50 to second, $50 to third. All furlongs. If not declared by April 1, 1888 (all declarations void unless accompanied by the money), with $1,000 added by Mr. Charles Green, the St. Louis Horsemen's Association, the first race of any yearling-stake race of the value of $2,000 to entry 5 pounds extra; second, to receive $200; third, $100. One-half of the stakes. One mile and a quarter.

Fourth race—Purse, $600, of which $100 to second, $50 to third; a handloop steeplechase; horses to close after last race on the fourth day; weights to be published and declarations made on the fifth day. Full steeplechase course.
